Certification News Release

On Friday, June 10, the Indiana Library and Historical Board (ILHB) held a public hearing to receive testimony and vote on the proposed changes to librarian certification. The proposed changes were unanimously approved by the ILHB. You can read the summary of changes here and the adopted final rule here. Please note that the proposed rule is slightly different than the adopted final rule and both documents are posted. The State Library and ILHB are grateful for the certification committee's hard work on these proposed changes, which provide for more flexibility in librarian certification while maintaining the integrity of the certification program.

IMDPLA Advisory Council needs your help!

Indianapolis Public Library since graduating from High School. I started at the Lawrence Branch as a work-student from Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. Then, I was promoted to Clerk I, promoted to Clerk II, and finally to Clerk III. Then, I transferred to Collection Management Service Area as Receiving/Processing Clerk III to pursue my undergraduate degree. After graduating with my Bachelor Degree my former Manager, Jeanne Gabonay recommended I attend IU SLIS. I applied and was accepted. A few days after being accepted I received an anonymous email to apply for the ILLID's fellowship.

How did the fellowship help prepare you for your career?

Being a single-parent with limited income and support. The fellowship gave me the support system and the financial resources to succeed. I was able to focus on my studies without worrying about how I was going to pay my bills or purchase textbooks each semester. The camaraderie shared among the fellows, mentors, and Marcia Smith-Woodard provided the wisdom for continual success.

What was your focus while you were working towards your Master's degree?

I wanted to be a Cataloger. I took all advance cataloging related classes. However, at the time IndyPL was not hiring catalogers.

Describe your career path.

I am looking to advancing my career at IndyPL and/or pursuing my PhD in the future.

What advice would you give to someone who is considering pursuing a digitization efforts of cultural heritage organizations across Indiana. This survey will inquire about organizations at all levels of the digitization process from those just now considering to digitize to those with robust shops that support institutions beyond their own. We are interested in knowing what people need but also what people can offer in this statewide collaborative effort.

Please consider taking a few moments to fill out our survey which can be found by clicking here.

Indiana Talking Book and Braille Library Honored

The National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in the Library of Congress, has recognized two libraries for outstanding service to readers who are visually or physically disabled. The Indiana Talking Book and Braille Library (ITBBL) in Indianapolis received the Network Library of the Year Award. The Kent District Library for the Blind & Physically Handicapped, an advisory and outreach center of the Michigan Braille and Talking Book Library, will receive the first Network Advisory and Outreach Center of the Year Award.

Various Libraries

Fourth grade students from around the state were asked to decorate special, acid-free birthday cards supplied by the library while briefly explaining "Why do you love Indiana?" and "What does being a Hoosier mean to you?" The completed collection includes an estimated 10,000 cards and will be preserved for many generations with other notable collections, including William Henry Harrison, Abraham Lincoln and Helen Keller correspondence as well as the Treaty of St. Mary's.

Rare Books and Manuscripts staff divided the state into five sections for an inclusive representation of Indiana. The first 500 cards are on display within the Exhibition Hall and feature several schools:

- Greene County, Bloomfield: Eastern Greene Elementary
- Marion County, Oaklondon: Amy Beverland Elementary
- Whitely County, Columbia City: Mary Raber Elementary
- Elkhart County, Goshen: Prairie View Elementary
- Benton County, Fowler: Sacred Heart School
- LaPorte County, LaPorte: Kingsbury Elementary
- Franklin County, Laurel: Laurel Elementary
- Dearborn County, Aurora: Aurora Elementary
- Jackson County, Freetown: Home School
- Jennings County: Home School
- Allen County, Fort Wayne: Home School
- Hamilton County, Carmel: Mohawk Trails Elementary
- Madison County, Alexandria: Home School

An additional 500 cards will be on display from October-December 2016.

Indiana State Library Construction Notice

Construction of the Education Center could significantly affect pedestrian traffic in the Exhibition Hall until October 15, 2016. The Center will serve as an active learning site, offering dynamic and participatory exhibits for school groups, families and tours. Barricades and signs will be constructed to protect and redirect patrons due to limited access. We appreciate your patience, understanding and cooperation to help maintain a safe environment during construction. Feel free to contact Connie Bruder, Associate Director of Public Services, prior to your arrival for access information at 317-232-3734 or cbruder@library.in.gov.
