

Made in Indiana

Hoosier dairy farmers provide milk to make a variety of products at processors, large and small.

Indiana has a strong artisan dairy community. Specialty products are hand-crafted locally under private labels. Farmstead dairies process products on the same farm where animals are raised and milked.

Buying local may mean a trip to the grocery store, because much of the milk produced in Indiana goes to make some of the America's favorite brands. Here are a few made in the Hoosier State!
