

Thrive West Central has partnered with Clay County to create a long-term revolving loan fund to help builders and developers overcome some of the challenges of building. Projects must be located in Clay County, Indiana.

Money is available now! Visit thrivewestcentral.com/housing to learn more and how to apply for the future

HOMES

A photograph showing a small wooden house model with a gabled roof and four square windows, sitting on a set of architectural blueprints. To the left of the house are two stacks of US coins, one taller than the other. A black pencil lies on the blueprints to the right of the house. The background is a light, neutral color.

New program for Clay County builders and developers
and money is available now

Building stronger communities. Thrive West Central supports housing development in Clay County.

visit thrivewestcentral.com/housing to learn more and how to apply