Generally, the Court will not delineate higher educational contributions years in advance of attendance. Generally, Court will order contribution based upon in-state school expenses, regardless of which institution of higher education child is attending. Examples of exceptions to limiting contribution to instate costs are 1) where parents both attended a private or out-of-state school, 2) where siblings attended private or out-of-state school, 3) child has an extremely high aptitude, 4) where child has been promised private school or out-of-state school for years, and 5) where private school or out-of-state school offers classes not offered by in-state school and child intends to major in that area of concentration. Generally, the Court will order contribution for a maximum of four years if four years would normally be required for the degree. Generally, Court will order contribution based upon the net costs after subtracting out grants and scholarships that do not have to be paid back. The Court will generally start with a presumption that the child should pay circa twenty (20%) percent of the net costs and that the parents should contribute pursuant to their percentage of earnings for the other eighty (80%) percent.

This presumption is general and can be influenced by availability of monies child has from other sources (grandparents' trust fund), parent not working because of subsequent marriage, the child's inability to work because of extracurricular activities, parents' overall level of income, precedent of the way parents' paid for older siblings higher education, etc.

- (G) In Camera Interviews. If the Court has an in camera interview with a child, the parties and attorneys are prohibited from discussing that interview with the child afterward.

LR03-TR00-FL-6: Guardianship Filings. Separate files with separate case numbers must be opened for each prospective ward.

LR03-TR00-FL-7: Overpayment of Child Support. When a child support obligor pays a greater amount of support than what is due, it is the responsibility of the obligor to notify the court having jurisdiction over the child support order, to request a repayment from the county clerk or the child support obligee. When child support is overpaid by reason of a tax refund intercept, account seizure, or other statutory or administrative capture, there is a rebuttable presumption that the overpayment was inadvertent and that the support obligor is entitled to the repayment of the overpaid amount.

The Code of Judicial Conduct Rule 2.17 prohibits the broadcasting, televising, recording, digital streaming, or photographing of court proceedings or the courtroom while court is in session. Requests to photograph the courtroom when court is not in session may be granted at the Court's discretion.

A member of the news media may request permission to broadcast by submitting a written request at least 7 days in advance of the hearing or proceeding. The request shall be made using the form found in Form C. The Court has discretion to approve or deny a request. An affirmative approval is required. The Court has discretion to modify the request period. If granted, the Court must post notice in the courtroom that news media personnel may be present for broadcast of court proceedings, and filming, photographing, and recording is limited to the authorized news media personnel.

News media is defined as persons employed by or representing a newspaper, periodical, press association, radio station, television station, or wire service and covered by Ind. Code § 34-46-4-1. Representatives of news media organizations may be required to wear identification. The Court has discretion to determine who may be eligible to be admitted as news media and under what conditions.

Broadcast is defined as any broadcasting or recording of court proceedings by news media using still, video or audio equipment.

If approved, all broadcasting shall take place in an area designated by the Court. The Court has discretion to limit or terminate broadcast by a news media organization at any time during the proceeding. The Court may direct the manner in which the proceedings are covered by news media. News media are to be unobtrusive and quiet. News media may not move around the courtroom during proceedings. News media may not conduct interviews in the courtroom. All cameras shall be on a fixed mounting. Handheld cameras are not permitted. Once the court session starts, the camera or recording device may not be moved, tilted or panned. Devices shall use ambient lighting only. Power, internet and other utilities will not be provided by the Court. No cords or boom microphones are allowed.

Broadcasting, recording, digitally streaming, or photographing proceedings will always be prohibited in proceedings that are closed to the public, either by state statute or Indiana Supreme Court rules. This prohibition also applies to minors; juvenile delinquency and child in need of services matters; protective order proceedings; guardianship proceedings; civil proceedings in which children are involved; alleged victims of violent offenses, sex offenses, and domestic abuse; jurors and prospective jurors and the jury selection process; proceedings or portions of proceedings where the court deems it necessary for the administration of justice (i.e. to protect a witness, other persons or confidential information); attorney-client communications; bench conferences; and materials on counsel tables and judicial bench.

Any violation of this rule may be punishable by contempt of court and/or the impositions of sanctions. Sanctions may include suspension and/or termination of broadcast privileges.
