

MITCHELL E. DANIELS, Jr., Governor
STATE OF INDIANA

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY JOSEPH E. WAINSCOTT, JR., EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

*Indiana Department of Homeland Security
Indiana Government Center South
302 West Washington Street
Indianapolis, IN 46204
317-232-3980*

Leadership for a Safe and Secure Indiana

Earthquake Awareness PSAs

60sec

Living in tornado alley, most Hoosiers understand the importance of preparing for severe weather. But did you know that Indiana is also exposed to the threat of earthquakes?

There are many simple steps you can take to make your home more earthquake ready, such as placing large items on lower shelves, and hanging heavy pictures away from beds.

It's important to develop and practice a detailed plan about what you and your family will do before, during and after an earthquake.

By preparing for an earthquake, you're also getting ready for other types of disasters, like floods and tornadoes, more commonly experienced in Indiana.

Make sure everyone in your home knows how to use the fire extinguisher and age appropriate members know how to shut off utilities.

Always have enough food, water, medicine and other supplies to sustain you and your household for at least three days. Be alert to developing emergency situations with an all hazards radio, and have an evacuation plan in case you need to leave your home quickly.

For more information about preparing for all kinds of emergencies, visit in.gov/dhs/getprepared.

30sec

Living in tornado alley, most Hoosiers understand the importance of preparing for severe weather. But did you know that Indiana is also exposed to the threat of earthquakes?

It's important to develop and practice a detailed plan about what you and your family will do during an earthquake.

By preparing for an earthquake, you're also getting ready for other types of disasters, like floods and tornadoes, more commonly experienced in Indiana.

Make sure everyone in your home knows how to use the fire extinguisher and age appropriate members know how to shut off utilities.

For more information about preparing for all kinds of emergencies, visit in.gov/dhs/getprepared.

15sec

Living in tornado alley, most Hoosiers understand the importance of preparing for severe weather. But did you know that preparing for floods and tornadoes will also help you be ready for an earthquake?

For more information about preparing for all kinds of emergencies, visit in.gov/dhs/getprepared.

Leadership for a Safe and Secure Indiana

An Equal Opportunity Employer