No employee, officer or agent shall participate in the selection or in the award or administration of a contract supported by program funds if a conflict of interest, real or apparent, would be involved. Conflicts of interest arise when one of the following has a financial or other interest in the firm selected for the award:

- b. Any member of the immediate family;
- c. His or her partner;

- i. When a transaction is conducted between related parties, meaning that the integrity of the transaction could be compromised;
- ii. When one party to the transaction is able to control or influence the actions of the other party.

Examples could include:

1. Hiring the CEO's brother as a janitor.
2. Purchasing goods or services from a business owned by an officer, employee, or relative of the Sponsor's entity.
3. Agreement for computer maintenance between a business and person who are related to the Sponsor's employees or board members.

Employees, officers, or agents must not solicit or potentially accept gifts, travel packages, and other incentives from prospective vendors/contractors. The Child Nutrition Program School or Sponsor must set standards for determining when the financial incentive is considered not substantial, or the gift is an unsolicited item of nominal value and may be accepted.

Hiring Standards & Annual Training Requirements for Food Service Directors (FSD(s))

School Food Authorities (SFAs) that choose to outsource management of some or all food service operations to another company or co-op, such as a Food Service Management Company (FSMC), Vendor, or Educational Services Center, are required by USDA to meet the following criteria:

- The SFA must maintain oversight and responsibility for planning, administering, implementing, monitoring, and evaluating the school meal programs. This means the FSD must be hired by the SFA, not the company or co-op.
- Even if the company or co-op appoints a person to oversee food service director duties, the role of FSD must still also remain with the SFA. The USDA hiring standards and annual training requirements are applicable to this role.
- If the school nutrition director duties are equally shared between multiple people, then all individuals must meet the FSD hiring standards. This means that while the SFA must appoint an FSD who meets the hiring standards, the company or co-op might also appoint someone to manage the FSD duties. This person is also required to meet the hiring standards and the training requirements.

- Qualified FSDs, whether hired by the SFA or the company/co-op, must regularly provide on-site assistance and monitoring of all sites under the sponsor. Regular monitoring means on site at least for a measurable portion of each week to ensure food safety, meal pattern and meal count documentation is maintained.
- Beginning school year 2022-2023, all SFAs will be expected to have a named food service director on site who meets the requirements as outlined above.
- For more information about hiring standards and training requirements check out the following resources from USDA:

Acknowledgement

If the SFA/RCCI contracts the management of Program operation with a FSMC, the SFA/RCCI remains responsible for the overall operation of the Programs. This responsibility that the SFA/RCCI retain and maintain direct involvement in the operations and cannot delegate certain responsibilities to the FSMC. Therefore, contracting with an FSMC does not mean the SFA relinquishes control of the operation to the FSMC.
