

SPECIALIZED POPULATIONS QUICK START GUIDE

This guide from the Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) serves to streamline the onboarding of new staff members who will work with specialized populations. Specialized populations refer to groups that may have unique barriers to education, including but not limited to Black students, Hispanic students, and those impacted by lower socioeconomic status. This resource offers a starting point for collaborative conversations supporting the amplification of specialized populations student learning and participation in schools. This is not a comprehensive list.
