The memoranda whose numbers are shown above are therefore no longer effective as memoranda. The subject matter is now included in the Design Manual. All such memoranda are now shown as deleted from the Department's web site.

The following unnumbered pages should be removed from the Design Manual, as they have been superseded by revised versions which now appear on the Department's web site. The June 2001 Manual revisions show the references to the web site in the appropriate locations.

Part	Chap.	Document to be Removed from Manual
I	7	Fish and Wildlife Review Memorandum
I	7	Scope / Environmental Compliance / Permit Application Checklist
V	40	Level One Design Criteria Checklist

The only Design Memoranda now still effective are those which have not yet been incorporated into the Design Manual. Those in the Policy Change / Technical Advisory format are posted on the Department's web site at www.in.gov/dot/TS/standards/memos/memos/htm . Design Memorandum No. 23, Plan Development Guidelines for Earth Retaining Systems, is still effective, though it is available only as a hardcopy, and not electronically.
