Why Piedmont Global?

Piedmont Global integrates cultural fluency, strategic insight, custom technology, and embedded partnership into an approach that helps organizations lead — globally, fluently, and confidently.

What sets us apart

- Proven track record with 200+ organizations
- Skilled linguists in 70+ languages, including Less-Commonly-Taught Languages (LCTLs)
- Deep expertise in regulated fields: government, healthcare, legal, education, and more
- Commitment to linguist retention and continuous development

We start at the beginning. We scale with you. We deliver impact that lasts.

Translation solutions

At Piedmont Global, we deliver professional, idiomatic translations alongside editing, proofreading, localization, Machine Translation (MT), and Human-Assisted Machine Translation (HAMT) so your content connects anywhere.

Our translators and editors pass a stringent recruitment and vetting process, while expert multilingual Project Managers oversee every step. A full Quality Control process guarantees that your translations are not just correct, but resonate with your audience—wherever they are.

Translation process

We follow a proven, five-step workflow to ensure your content is accurate, consistent, and ready for its audience.

1. Project prep

Your dedicated Project Manager gathers all assets, including glossaries, style guides, TMs, and prepares files for seamless integration into our Computer Assisted Translation tool (CAT), assigning the best qualified linguists for your project.

2. Translation, editing & proofreading

Skilled translators deliver precise, idiomatic content, refined by expert editors and proofreaders for accuracy, tone, and clarity.

3. Quality assurance & review

An independent QA check ensures consistency, with optional client linguistic review for additional refinement, guaranteeing that your message lands exactly as intended.

4. Formatting & layout

An independent QA check ensures consistency, with optional client linguistic review for additional refinement, guaranteeing that your message lands exactly as intended.

5. Delivery

You receive the final deliverable in your preferred format, with post-project feedback to continually optimize our process.

We don't just translate; we deliver Strategic Globalization so your content reads naturally, looks professional, and works in today's world.

Quality Assurance

At Piedmont Global, excellence starts with our people. Every translator undergoes a rigorous vetting process to make sure only the most experienced linguists join our team. Once on our team, translators are continuously evaluated on accuracy, style, and consistency.

Those not meeting our high standards enter a coaching track with reduced workload until improvement is achieved. Repeated underperformance leads to removal, so only the best work on your projects.

By balancing accountability with professional growth, we ensure clients receive translations that meet the highest global standards—every time.

The result: a team that is accountable, continually improving, and fully committed to delivering translations you can trust.

Select client projects

From document translation to web localization to transcription, Piedmont Global has partnered with over 200 organizations to help prepare them for the global market.

US Department of Justice

Piedmont Global transcribes and translates hundreds of hours of audio every day. We also translate email communications, typed and handwritten letters, interviews, books, poems, and a variety of economic political, and social news articles.

Washington Gas & Light

Piedmont Global supports WGL with translation for all marketing & corporate communications, including print campaigns, digital advertising, and crisis communications in over a dozen languages for a diverse community of subscribers.

US Department of Veterans Affairs

Piedmont Global translates documentation to process veterans' claims for service compensation benefits. From medical charts to lab reports to prescriptions, our specialized team of translators help make sure claims are processed as smoothly and quickly as possible.
