Nature of Business Relationship with Agency: The DOL has a partnership and long-standing relationship with CCS and both regulates and offers free consultation services for the health and safety of the AGC member companies' workplaces. CCS itself is not a regulated entity.

Public Interest: The DOL serves the business community in Indiana and shares similar interests with CCS in serving the construction segment of that community. We also share a common mission regarding workplace safety which is why we have a partnership and long-standing relationship with them. Since workplace safety is one of our primary missions, Commissioner Redden's attendance at the CCS table is in the public interest because it demonstrates our support of the furtherance of that objective to the construction community.
