

Johnson County

The Johnson County Prosecutor's Office currently has no open positions. However, we accept resumes on an ongoing basis for future openings.

FUN FACT: Johnson County generally has among the highest salaries in the State of Indiana for deputy prosecutors.

Salaries are commensurate with ability and experience. Substantial potential for advancement.

The office has 21 attorneys and 27 support staff.

If you would like to submit a resume to be considered for future openings, please send a short cover letter (don't agonize over it) along with a one-page resume (with GPA and approximate class standing), and references to:
