FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Lafayette, IN (January 31, 2009) – Ice Cream Specialties has initiated a recall of a various peanut-containing ice cream novelties produced in its Indiana plant because they have the potential to be contaminated with Salmonella, an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Healthy persons infected with Salmonella often experience fever, diarrhea (which may be bloody), nausea, vomiting and abdominal pain. In rare circumstances, infection with Salmonella can result in the organism getting into the bloodstream and producing more severe illnesses such as arterial infections (i.e., infected aneurysms), endocarditis and arthritis.

These ice cream novelties are sold nationwide at retail stores, convenience stores and possibly in vending machines.

The ice cream novelties included in this recall are:

There have been no reported illnesses related to our products to date.

The Peanut Corporation of America (PCA), a supplier to Ice Cream Specialties, initiated a recall of the peanut ingredient used to make the recalled products, which is why we are conducting this recall. Ice Cream Specialties switched to a different peanut supplier on January 15, 2009 and any lots not listed above are not under recall.

Ice Cream Specialties is notifying our direct customers by phone and/or in writing of the recalled products that contain PCA's peanuts. Consumers with recalled products may either discard them or return them to the store of purchase for a refund. Consumers with questions may contact Ice Cream Specialties at 1-800-654-2547, ext. 218 (M-F, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. CST). Consumers may also visit the FDA website at www.fda.gov for an updated list of products being recall because of this problem.
