I. INTRODUCTION

This is the annual report of the activities of the Disciplinary Commission of the Supreme Court of Indiana for the period beginning July 1, 2013 and ending June 30, 2014. The Disciplinary Commission is the agency of the Supreme Court of the State of Indiana charged with responsibility for investigation and prosecution of charges of lawyer misconduct. The Indiana Rules of Professional Conduct set forth the substantive law to which lawyers are held accountable by the Indiana lawyer discipline system. The procedures governing the Indiana lawyer discipline system are set forth in Indiana Supreme Court Admission and Discipline Rule 23. The broad purposes of the Disciplinary Commission are to "protect the public, the court and the members of the bar of this State from misconduct on the part of attorneys and to protect attorneys from unwarranted claims of misconduct." Admission and Discipline Rule 23 § 1.

The Disciplinary Commission is not a tax-supported agency. It is funded through an annual fee that each lawyer admitted to practice law in the State of Indiana must pay in order to keep their license in good standing. The annual registration fee in this reporting year for lawyers in active status is $145.00. After paying the costs of collecting annual fees, the Clerk of the Supreme Court distributes the balance of fees to the Disciplinary Commission, the Commission for Continuing Legal Education and the Indiana Judges and Lawyers Assistance Program to support the work of those Court agencies. In this fiscal year, of each $145.00 annual registration fee, after the Clerk's expenses for collecting fees, 65.96% was distributed to the Disciplinary Commission, 18.91% to the Continuing Legal Education Commission and 15.13% to the Judges and Lawyers Assistance Program.

The annual registration fee for inactive status lawyers in this reporting year was $72.50. The annual registration fee is due on or before October 1st of each year. Failure to pay either required fee within the established time subjects the delinquent lawyer to suspension of his or her license to practice law until such time as the fee and any delinquency penalties are paid.

Out-of-state lawyers who received court permission to practice law temporarily in the state of Indiana (pro hac vice admission) were required to pay a $145.00 registration fee for each year they are participating as counsel in an Indiana case.

On May 29, 2014, the Supreme Court issued an order suspending 180 lawyers on active and inactive status, effective July 3, 2014, for failure to pay their annual attorney registration fees.

II. HISTORY AND STRUCTURE OF THE DISCIPLINARY COMMISSION

The Indiana Supreme Court has original and exclusive jurisdiction over the discipline of lawyers admitted to practice law in the State of Indiana. Ind. Const. Art. 7 § 4. On June 23, 1971, the Indiana Supreme Court created the Disciplinary Commission to function in an investigatory and prosecutorial capacity in lawyer discipline matters.

The Disciplinary Commission is governed by a board of commissioners, each of whom is appointed by the Supreme Court to serve a term of five years. The Disciplinary Commission consists of seven lawyers and two lay appointees.

The Commission meets monthly in Indianapolis, generally on the second Friday of each month. In addition to acting as the governing board of the agency, the Disciplinary Commission considers staff reports on claims of misconduct against lawyers and must make a determination that there is reasonable cause to believe that a lawyer is guilty of misconduct which would warrant disciplinary action before formal disciplinary charges can be filed against a lawyer.

The officers and members of the Disciplinary Commission during the reporting year were:

The Disciplinary Commission's work is administered and supervised by its Executive Secretary, who is appointed by the Commission with the approval of the Supreme Court. The Executive Secretary of the Commission is G. Michael Witte, appointed June 21, 2010.

The Disciplinary Commission's offices are located at 30 South Meridian Street, Suite 850, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.

III. THE DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

A. The Grievance Process

The purpose of the Disciplinary Commission is to inquire into claims of attorney misconduct, protect lawyers against unwarranted claims of misconduct, and prosecute cases seeking attorney discipline when merited. Action by the Disciplinary Commission is not a mechanism for the resolution of private disputes between clients and attorneys. Discipline action is independent of private remedies that may be available through civil litigation.

An investigation into lawyer misconduct is initiated through the filing of a grievance with the Disciplinary Commission. Any member of the bench, the bar or the public may file a grievance by submitting to the Disciplinary Commission a written statement on a Request for Investigation (RFI) form. Any individual having knowledge about facts relating to a complaint may submit a grievance. An RFI form is readily available from the Commission's office, from bar associations throughout the state, and on the Internet.

The Disciplinary Commission may also initiate an inquiry into alleged lawyer misconduct in the absence of a grievance from a third party. Acting upon information that is brought to its attention from any credible source, the Disciplinary Commission may authorize the Executive Secretary to prepare a grievance in the name of the Commission.

B. Preliminary Investigation

The Commission staff screens each newly filed grievance to initially determine whether the allegations contained therein raise a substantial question of misconduct. If a grievance does not present a substantial question of misconduct, it may be dismissed by the Executive Secretary with the approval of the Commission. Written notice of dismissal is mailed to the grievant and the lawyer.

A grievance that is not dismissed on its face is sent to the lawyer involved, and a demand is made for the lawyer to submit a mandatory written response within twenty (20) days of receipt. Additional time for response is allotted in appropriate circumstances. Other investigation as appropriate is conducted in order to develop the facts related to a grievance. The Executive Secretary may call upon the assistance of bar associations in the state to aid in the preliminary investigation of grievances. Larger bar associations maintain volunteer Grievance Committees to assist the Disciplinary Commission with preliminary investigations. These bar associations include the Allen County Bar Association, the Evansville Bar Association, the Indianapolis Bar Association, the Lake County Bar Association, and the St. Joseph County Bar Association. The Supreme Court may suspend the law license of a lawyer who fails to respond in writing to a grievance that has been opened for investigation.

Upon completion of the initial inquiry and consideration of the grievance and the lawyer's response, the Executive Secretary, with the approval of the Commission, may dismiss the grievance upon a determination that the grievance does not raise a substantial question of misconduct. The grievant and the lawyer are notified in writing of the dismissal.

Lawyers must cooperate with the Commission's investigation by answering grievances in writing and responding to other demands for information from the Commission. The Commission may seek an order from the Supreme Court suspending a non-cooperating lawyer's license to practice until such time as the lawyer cooperates. If after being suspended for non-cooperation, the lawyer does not cooperate for a period of six months, the Court may indefinitely suspend the lawyer's license. An indefinitely suspended lawyer will be reinstated only after successfully completing the reinstatement process described in paragraph K below.

C. Further Investigation

Those grievances that the Executive Secretary determines present reasonable cause are docketed for further investigation and, ultimately, for full consideration by the Disciplinary Commission. Both the grievant and the lawyer are notified of this step in the process. Upon completion of the investigation, the results of the investigation are composed in a written summary, and the matter is placed on the monthly agenda of the Disciplinary Commission for consideration.

D. Authorizing Charges of Misconduct

After a grievance has been investigated, the Executive Secretary reports on it to the Disciplinary Commission, together with recommendation about the disposition of the matter. The Commission makes a determination whether or not there is reasonable cause to believe the lawyer is guilty of misconduct that would warrant disciplinary action. If the Commission finds that there is not reasonable cause, the matter is dismissed with written notice to the grievant and the lawyer. If the Commission finds that reasonable cause exists, it directs the Executive Secretary to prepare and file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court a verified complaint charging the lawyer with misconduct.

E. Filing Formal Disciplinary Charges

Upon a finding by the Disciplinary Commission that there is reasonable cause to believe the lawyer is guilty of misconduct that would warrant disciplinary action, the Executive Secretary files a verified complaint with the Clerk of the Supreme Court setting forth the facts related to the alleged misconduct. The verified complaint also identifies the provisions of the Rules of Professional Conduct that the lawyer is alleged to have violated. The respondent must file an answer to the verified complaint. Failure to answer the allegations will be taken as true.

F. The Evidentiary Hearing

Upon the filing of a verified complaint, the Supreme Court appoints a hearing officer who will preside over the case and who will submit recommended findings to the Supreme Court. The hearing officer must be an attorney admitted to practice law in the State of Indiana and is frequently a sitting or retired judge. The hearing officer's responsibilities include supervising the pre-hearing development of the case including discovery, conducting an evidentiary hearing, and reporting the results of the hearing to the Supreme Court by way of written findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommendations. A hearing may be held at any location determined to be appropriate by the hearing officer.

G. Supreme Court Review

After the hearing officer has issued a report to the Supreme Court, either or both of the parties may petition the Court for a review of any or all of the hearing officer's findings, conclusions and recommendations. The Court independently reviews every case, even in the absence of a petition for review by either party. The Court then issues its final order in the case.

H. Final Orders of Discipline

The conclusion of a lawyer discipline proceeding is an order from the Supreme Court setting out the facts of the case, determining the violations (if any) of the Rules of Professional Conduct that are supported by the facts, and assessing a sanction in each case where it finds misconduct. The sanction ordered by the Court is related to the seriousness of the violation and the presence or absence of mitigating or aggravating circumstances. The available disciplinary sanctions include:

- Private Administrative Admonition (PAA). A PAA is a disciplinary sanction that is an administrative resolution of a case involving minor misconduct. A PAA is issued as a sanction only when the Disciplinary Commission and the respondent lawyer agree to the PAA. Unlike other disciplinary sanctions, the Supreme Court does not directly issue the admonition. Instead, the Executive Secretary admonishes the lawyer. However, the Court receives advance notice of the parties' intent to resolve a case by way of a PAA and may reject such a proposed agreement. There is a public record made in the Office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court of every case resolved by a PAA, although the facts of the matter are not included in the public record.
- Private Reprimand. A private reprimand consists of a private letter of reprimand from the Supreme Court to the offending lawyer. The case does not result in a publicly disseminated opinion describing the facts of the case. The Court's brief order resolving the case by way of a private reprimand is a public record that is available through the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court. In rare cases where a private reprimand is assessed, the Court may issue a per curiam opinion for publication bearing the caption In the Matter of Anonymous. While the published opinion does not identify the offending lawyer by name, the opinion sets out the facts of the case and the violations of the Rules of Professional Conduct involved for the edification of the bench, the bar and the public.
- Public Reprimand. A public reprimand is issued in the form of a publicly disseminated opinion or order by the Supreme Court setting forth the facts of the case and identifying the applicable Rule violations. A public reprimand does not result in any direct limitation upon the offending lawyer's license to practice law.
- Short Term Suspension. The Court may impose a short term suspension of a lawyer's license to practice law as the sanction in a case. When the term of suspension is six months or less, the lawyer's reinstatement to the practice of law is generally, but not always, automatic upon the completion of the term of suspension. If a short term suspension is ordered without automatic reinstatement, then the lawyer may be reinstated to practice only after petitioning for reinstatement and proving fitness to practice law. The procedures associated with reinstatement upon petition are described later in this report. Even in cases of suspension with automatic reinstatement, the Disciplinary Commission may enter objections to the automatic reinstatement of the lawyer's license to practice law.

- Long Term Suspension. The Court may impose a longer term of suspension, which is a suspension for a period of time greater than six months. Every lawyer who is suspended for more than six months must petition the Court for reinstatement and prove fitness to re-enter the practice of law before a long-term suspension will be terminated.
- Disbarment. In the most serious cases of misconduct, the Court will issue a sanction of disbarment. Disbarment revokes a lawyer's license to practice law permanently, and it is not subject to being reinstated at any time in the future.

The lawyer discipline process in Indiana is not a substitute for private or other public remedies that may be available, including criminal sanctions in appropriate cases and civil liability for damages caused by lawyer negligence or other misconduct. Accordingly, the sanctions that are issued in lawyer discipline cases do not generally provide for the resolution of disputed claims of liability for money damages between the grievant and the offending lawyer. However, a suspended lawyer's willingness to make restitution may be considered by the Court to be a substantial factor in determining whether or not the lawyer will be reinstated to the practice of law at the conclusion of a term of suspension.

From time to time, the Court includes in a sanction order additional provisions that address aspects of the lawyer's misconduct in the particular case. Examples of these conditions include participation in substance abuse or mental health recovery programs, specific continuing legal education requirements, and periodic audits of trust accounts.

I. Resolution By Agreement

In some cases that have resulted in the filing of a verified complaint, the respondent lawyer and the Disciplinary Commission are able to reach an agreement concerning the facts of a case, the applicable Rule violations and an appropriate sanction for the misconduct in question. In these instances, the parties submit their agreement to the Supreme Court for its consideration. Any such agreement must include an affidavit from the lawyer accepting full responsibility for the agreed misconduct. The Court may accept or reject the agreement.

A lawyer charged with misconduct may also tender his or her written resignation from the practice of law. Resignation is a discipline sanction. It is not the equivalent of retirement. It is not a graceful avoidance of discipline. A resignation is not effective unless the lawyer fully admits his or her misconduct and the Court accepts the resignation as tendered. A lawyer who has resigned with pending misconduct allegations must wait five years before seeking license reinstatement. Reinstatement after resignation is a very steep burden to overcome. It requires the attorney to prove to the Court worthiness of reinstatement despite the dark shadow of the misconduct previously admitted.

In a similar manner, a lawyer charged with misconduct may submit to the mercy of the Court by fully admitting the allegations and consenting to such discipline as the Court deems appropriate under the circumstances.

J. Temporary Suspension

While a disciplinary complaint is pending against a lawyer, the Disciplinary Commission may seek the temporary suspension of the lawyer's license to practice law pending the outcome of the proceeding. Temporary suspensions are reserved for cases of the most serious misconduct or on-going risk to clients or the integrity of client funds. A hearing officer is responsible for taking evidence on a petition for temporary suspension and making a recommendation to the Supreme Court. The Court may grant or deny the petition for temporary suspension.

A separate temporary suspension procedure applies whenever an Indiana licensed lawyer is found guilty of a crime punishable as a felony. The Executive Secretary must report the finding of guilt to the Supreme Court and request an immediate temporary suspension from the practice of law. Generally, finding of guilt by a trial court in these instances does not occur until the sentencing hearing. The Court may order the temporary suspension without a hearing, but the affected lawyer has the opportunity to submit to the Court reasons why the temporary suspension should be vacated. A temporary suspension granted under these circumstances is effective until such time as there is a resolution of related disciplinary charges or further order of the Court. Trial judges are required to send a certified copy of the order adjudicating criminal guilt of any lawyer for any crime, misdemeanor or felony, to the Executive Secretary of the Commission within ten days of the finding of guilt.

Finally, the Executive Secretary is required to report to the Supreme Court any time the Commission receives notice that a lawyer has been found to be intentionally delinquent in the payment of child support. After being given an opportunity to respond, the Supreme Court may suspend the lawyer's license to practice law until the lawyer is no longer in intentional violation of the support order.

K. The License Reinstatement Process

When any lawyer resigns or is suspended without provision for automatic reinstatement, the lawyer may not be reinstated into the practice of law until the lawyer meets his or her burden of proof. The lawyer must prove by clear and convincing evidence that the causes of the underlying misconduct have been successfully addressed, and demonstrate that he or she is otherwise fit to re-enter the practice of law. Additionally, the lawyer must successfully complete the Multi-State Professional Responsibility Examination, a standardized examination on legal ethics.

Lawyer reinstatement proceedings are heard in the first instance by a member of the Disciplinary Commission appointed as hearing officer by the Court. After hearing evidence, the hearing officer makes a recommendation to the full Commission. The Commission, acting upon the recommendation of the hearing officer, makes its recommendation to the Supreme Court. The Court reviews the recommendation of the Commission and may either grant or deny reinstatement.

L. Lawyer Disability Proceedings

Any member of the public, the bar, the Disciplinary Commission, or the Executive Secretary may file with the Commission a petition alleging that a lawyer is disabled by reason of physical or mental illness or chemical dependency. The Executive Secretary is charged with investigating allegations of disability and, if justified under the circumstances, prosecuting a disability proceeding before the Disciplinary Commission or a hearing officer appointed by the Court. The Court ultimately reviews the recommendation of the Commission and may suspend the lawyer from the practice of law until such time as the disability has been remediated.

IV. COMMISSION ACTIVITY IN 2013-2014

A. Grievances and Investigations

An investigation into allegations of lawyer misconduct is commenced by the filing of a grievance with the Disciplinary Commission. During the reporting period, 1,678 grievances were filed with the Disciplinary Commission. Of this number, the Disciplinary Commission initiated 54 grievances. The total number of grievances filed was a 13.85% increase over the number filed the previous year. Appendix B presents in graphical form the number of grievances filed for each of the past ten years.

There were 18,403 Indiana lawyers in active, good-standing status and 3,135 lawyers who were inactive, good-standing as of June 30, 2014. In addition, 1,276 lawyers regularly admitted to practice in other jurisdictions were granted temporary admission to practice law by trial court orders in specific cases during the year, pursuant to the provisions of Indiana Admission and Discipline Rule 3 (commonly known as pro hac vice admission). The total grievances filed represent 9.1 grievances for every one-hundred actively practicing lawyers. Appendix C presents in graphical form the grievance rate for each of the past ten years.

Distribution of grievances is not even. Far fewer than 1,678 individual lawyers received grievances during the reporting period. Many lawyers were the recipients of multiple grievances. It is important to note that the mere filing of a grievance is not, in and of itself, an indication of misconduct on the part of a lawyer.

During the reporting period, 1,412 of the grievances either received or carried over from previous years were dismissed without further investigation upon a determination that, on their face, they presented no substantial question of misconduct.

Upon receipt, each grievance that is not initially dismissed is classified according to the type of legal matter out of which the grievance arose and the type of misconduct alleged by the grievant. The table in Appendix D sets forth the classification by legal matter and by misconduct alleged of all grievances that were pending on June 30, 2014, or that were dismissed during the reporting year after investigation. Many grievances arise out of more than one type of legal matter or present claims of more than one type of alleged misconduct. Accordingly, the total numbers presented in Appendix D represent a smaller number of actual grievances.

Ranked in order of complaint frequency, the legal matters most often giving rise to grievances involve Criminal, Domestic Relations, Administrative Matters, Contract, Real Estate, and Collections. To understand the significance of this data, it is important to keep in mind that criminal cases make up the largest single category of cases filed in our trial courts. With the exception of civil plenary filings, domestic relations cases account for the next highest category of cases filed. Thus, in part, the high rates of grievances filed that pertain to criminal and domestic relations matters reflect the high number of cases of those types handled by lawyers in Indiana. The predominant types of legal matters out of which grievances arose during the reporting period are presented graphically in Appendix E.

Ranked in order of complaint frequency, the alleged misconduct types most often giving rise to grievances are Actions in Bad Faith, Communications or Non-Diligence, Improper Withdrawal, Improper Influence, Excessive Fees and Personal Misconduct, with complaints about poor communications or non-diligence being close to one and a half times as frequent as the next category of alleged misconduct. The predominant types of misconduct alleged in grievances during the reporting period are presented graphically in Appendix F.

The following is the status of all grievances that were pending before the Disciplinary Commission on June 30, 2014, or that had been dismissed during the reporting period:

	DISMISSED	OPEN
Grievances filed before July 1, 2013	1,424	181
Grievances filed on or after July 1, 2013	1,412	130
Total carried over from preceding year:	427
Total carried over to next year:	342

This represents a decrease of 85 files carried over into the following year.

B. Non-Cooperation

A lawyer's law license may be suspended if the lawyer has failed to cooperate with the disciplinary process. The purpose of this is to promote lawyer cooperation to aid in the effective and efficient functioning of the disciplinary system. The Commission brings allegations of non-cooperation before the Court by filing petitions to show cause. During the reporting year, the Disciplinary Commission filed 53 petitions to suspend the law licenses of 24 lawyers with the Supreme Court for failing to cooperate with investigations. The following are the dispositions of the non-cooperation matters that the Commission filed with the Court during the reporting year or that were carried over from the prior year:

Show cause petitions filed.....53

Dismissed as moot after cooperation before show cause order4

Petition pending on June 30, 2014, without show cause order4

Show cause orders with no suspension.....17

- Dismissed after show cause order due to compliance18

- Non-cooperation Suspensions still in effect on June 30, 201411
- Reinstated due to cooperation after suspension.....5

Non-Cooperation Suspensions Converted to Indefinite Suspensions4

C. Trust Account Overdraft Reporting

Pursuant to Admis. Disc. R. 23 § 29, all Indiana lawyers must maintain their client trust accounts in financial institutions that have agreed to report any trust account overdrafts to the Disciplinary Commission. Upon receipt of a trust account overdraft report, the Disciplinary Commission sends an inquiry letter to the lawyer directing that the lawyer supply a documented, written explanation for the overdraft. After review of the circumstances surrounding the overdraft, the investigation is either closed or referred to the Disciplinary Commission for consideration of filing a disciplinary grievance.

The results of inquiries into overdraft reports received during the reporting year are:

Carried Over from Prior Year5

Overdraft Reports Received.....114

Inquiries Closed121

Inquiries Carried Over Into Following Year.....6

VI. AMENDMENTS TO RULES AFFECTING LAWYER DISCIPLINE

There were no amendments to rules affecting lawyer discipline during the 2013-2014 fiscal year.

VII. OTHER DISCIPLINARY COMMISSION ACTIVITIES

Outreach to the bar and to the public is an important function of the Commission staff. In the past fiscal year staff of the Disciplinary Commission appeared more than 55 times as faculty at continuing education programs and as speakers at other events. These outreach opportunities occurred both in-state and out-of-state, including one national audience program. Staff is encouraged to serve in these capacities.

Staff has expanded its outreach to in-state law schools with presentations in courses teaching professional responsibility and law practice management. Additionally, Disciplinary Commission staff have joined with the staff of the Commission on Continuing Legal Education, the Board of Law Examiners, and the Judges and Lawyers Assistance Program to develop and present a program titled "A Life in the Law". The program instructs the audience on the functions of these bar regulatory agencies and also advises on the benefits that the bar and the public receive from these agencies.
