MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN
__________________________________ COUNTY JUVENILE PROBATION
AND
INDIANA DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SERVICE, LOCAL OFFICE IN ____________

This Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) establishes a framework for increasing and enhancing interagency communication and collaboration between the ________County Juvenile Probation Department (hereinafter “Probation”) and the Indiana Department of Child Service, local office in _____ (hereinafter “DCS”) to maximize the likelihood of positive outcomes for youth who are dually involved in both the juvenile justice and child welfare system (both systems sometimes hereinafter referred to as “Systems”); specifically this document addresses a dual status child, as defined by I.C. 31-41-1-2.

WHEREAS, the privacy and confidentiality of information regarding a youth in juvenile justice is an important legal and ethical principle; and

WHEREAS, appropriate sharing of information can improve decision-making, care and outcomes for youth and families; and

WHEREAS, youth who are charged with committing delinquent acts or who are charged with status offenses are guaranteed certain constitutional rights; and

WHEREAS, the general Rule of Law as to disclosure of youth-servicing agency records is that they are closed to both public dissemination and interagency sharing, unless statutory exceptions apply; and
WHEREAS, I.C. 31-39-9-1 provides that the court (probation), law enforcement, the department of correction, the DCS, office of family and social services and schools may exchange the information included in the records of a child who is a child in need of service or a delinquent child, if the information or records are not confidential under State or Federal law; and

WHEREAS, it is not the intention of this MOU to supersede existing Federal statutes, specifically HIPAA, FERPA, and 42CFR Part 2, or State statutes, but rather to provide clarity concerning personally identifiable information that can and cannot be disclosed during juvenile justice and child protection proceedings for the purpose of case coordination and planning; and

WHEREAS, the parties agree that the information to be disclosed by both participating systems is based on a legal authority and/or an informed consent to release information by the youth and/the youth’s parent or legal guardian; and

WHEREAS, the parties agree that they will not, without good cause, refuse, to disclose the information necessary to achieve the purposes of this MOU; and
WHEREAS, all records/reports are considered confidential and shall not be released unless otherwise allowed by this MOU, State or Federal law;

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree that this Memorandum of Understanding reflects their agreement as to the current permitted and prohibited sharing and uses of information in the Dual System Youth Process. The parties further agree that this MOU does not supersede State or Federal privacy laws or relinquish rights to privacy to which Dual System Youth and their families are entitled. Whenever possible, both Systems are encourage to obtain proper permission for releasing protected information through properly executed consent to release forms. The parties will endeavor to provide assurances to youth, families and other advocates that the information shared will be protected and used in relevant and appropriate ways to benefit the Dual System Youth. If consent forms are not able to be executed, the parties must determine if the request for information falls into one of the State or Federal exceptions. Further, the parties agree that information sharing is limited to case-specific information on a need-to-know basis for professionals who provide services to the Dual System Youth and their families through Probation or the DCS.

Additionally, the parties to this Agreement commit to explore options to facilitate expanded and appropriate sharing of information between their Systems. These efforts include, but are not limited to:
1. Advocacy for obtaining limited waivers from the State and Federal governments for removing obstacles for sharing information; and
2. Reviewing internal policies and procedures within each System that may unnecessarily discourage sharing information between Systems; and
3. Working together, as resources allow, too create a secure database containing permitted relevant and appropriate information.

I. Definition: A Dual Status Child is defined by I.C. 31-41-1-2.

II. Goal: The parties agree that the goal of the relevant statute and the resulting effort, including this MOU, is to better serve the children who cross over into both systems and as such are often the neediest children involved in the juvenile justice system.

III. Internal Confidentiality for Shared Information: The parties to this agreement acknowledge that State and Federal regulations prohibit further disclosure of shared and confidential personally identifiable information without the specific written consent of the person to who it pertains or as otherwise permitted by law or regulation. Both parties agree to carefully observe these duties of confidentiality.

IV. Modification: Both parties agree that any modifications or renewals of this agreement may be made only in a dated writing executed by both of them.

V. Term: This MOU is effective upon the date of the final signature, __________, 20__, and shall terminate on June 30, 2017, unless renewed pursuant to Section IV above.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have entered into this Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement as evidenced by their signatures below. This Memorandum is effective upon the date of the final signature.

Why do we need dual status processes?

Any experienced juvenile court judge, case manager or probation officer can cite instances when the line between abuse and neglect (dependency cases) and juvenile delinquency cases becomes blurred. Even before the publication of research on “crossover children”, professionals in both arenas recognized that there were certain cases in which a child required one system’s services in the stead of or in concert with the other. Over the years, caseworkers and probation officers have attempted, with limited anecdotal success, to bridge the gap. Most of the time, however, those efforts were blockaded by entrenched silo mentality.

Case managers and probation officers have share common concerns for children on their respective caseloads. However, resistance is often met when attempts are made to transition a child from one system to the other. Over the past ten years this phenomena has been the subject of significant research. We now know that in certain circumstances a child and the family require the collaborative efforts of both systems. We also have learned that the failure of the two systems to meaningfully work together may negatively impact a child’s future and, ultimately, the safety of our community.

There is a clear nexus between victimization and delinquent/criminal behavior. Youth lacking in protective factors “risk ‘crossing over’ from the child welfare system to the juvenile justice system and other systems of care.” Delinquent or violence associated risk factors within a family are also present in abuse and neglect families. Research has demonstrated that there is a greater likelihood of delinquency among children who have suffered abuse and neglect. We also know that the early onset of delinquency in a child’s life is a predictor of future criminogenic behaviors. Crossover youth present a co-occurrence of problem behaviors in many areas of their lives. They present with common family histories of criminal behavior, mental health problems, substance abuse, or domestic violence victimization.

The failure to meaningfully address the needs of cross over youth results in disproportional treatment of children. In a 1997 New York City study, the researchers found that although only 2% of the overall youth were in foster care, 15% of the children in detention were foster care children. Similarly, African American children are twice as likely to be arrested as similarly situated white youths in the child welfare system. Eighty (80%) to eighty-three (83%) percent of crossover youth exhibit substance abuse of mental health problems. Crossover youth lose eligibility for educational services and they experience truancy and poor academic performance at a greater rate. Thus we know that the accidental selection of one system (by arrest) or the inability of systems to coordinate services for a blended approach often places a child on a trajectory that does not meet the child’s needs and best interests.

All of this is true despite the fact that the two systems have employees from similar educational disciplines. Each system uses similar service providers and each system is bound by common federal and state regulatory requirements.

Indiana’s Dual Status legislation was developed to correct the plight of the cross over youth. It provides both systems, under the common umbrella of the juvenile court, with the tools to identify, communicate, and implement a coordinated plan that serves a child’s best interests and welfare.
The research:

Dually identified Youth - Youth who are currently involved with the juvenile justice system and have history in the child welfare system but no current involvement (or vice versa)

Dually-Involved Youth – Youth who have concurrent involvement (diversionary, formal, or a combination of the two) with both the child welfare and juvenile justice systems.

Dually-Adjudicated Youth – Youth who are concurrently adjudicated in both the child welfare and juvenile justice systems (i.e. both dependent and delinquent).

Statutory definition:

DUAL STATUS ASSESSMENT REPORT PROCESS
FOR DUAL STATUS ASSESSMENT REPORT FORM SEE TAB 6

31-41-2-6. Written report and recommendation.
After a dual status assessment team has met to assess a child, the team shall:

(1) designate a member to prepare the written report for the juvenile court; and
(2) provide recommendations, including:
   (A) whether the court should proceed with an additional initial hearing regarding the petition alleging the child is in need of services and dismiss a pending delinquency petition or informal adjustment at the conclusion of a child in need of services adjudication;
   (B) whether the court should proceed with an additional initial hearing regarding a petition alleging that the child is a delinquent child under IC 31-37-1 and dismiss a pending child in need of services petition or informal adjustment upon conclusion of the delinquency adjudication;
   (C) whether the court should proceed with an additional initial hearing and adjudication or informal adjustment concerning a child in need of services petition and a delinquency petition under IC 31-37-1;
   (D) what agency should be the lead agency in a child’s supervision; and
   € any other matters relevant to the child’s best interests, including any services to be included in a dispositional decree.

If the probation department of the juvenile court is designated as the lead agency under IC 31-41-3, any recommendations made by the dual status assessment team under subdivision (2) must be consistent with the funding provisions of IC 31-37.

A NOTE ON PUBLIC ACCESS:

Public access is permitted in some limited circumstances when a delinquency petition is filed. For example public access is permitted when a petition is filed alleging that a child committed murder or an act that would be a felony of committed by an adult. (IC 31-30-9-2-8(a)). Public access is only permitted once the petition is filed. The information subject to public access is limited to that which is provided under the statute: eg. Name, age, nature of offense, CCS entries, and any decree of adjudication.

Under HB 1196, a petition (re: a felony or otherwise) may or may not be filed at the time the case is referred to the Dual Jurisdiction Assessment Team. If a petition is not filed then no access would be permitted. However, if a petition is filed, then the media would only be allowed the information listed above. The details from the Assessment Team report is not one of the items listed as being eligible for release. It would be my opinion, therefore, that the CHINS case, if any is resulting from the assessment, would remain confidential. Under current law, motions concerning child abuse and neglect are excluded from public access. (See IC 31-39-2-8(b)(10).

The bottom line this: If a petition alleging that the child committed a crime that would be a felony of committed by an adult is filed, then public access would still be permitted notwithstanding the Assessment Team process. However, if the petition is not filed prior to the referral then public access would not be permitted. Any referral for a CHINS case would remain confidential.

If a delinquency petition is filed that meets the requirements for public access and is later dismissed per the recommendation of the Assessment team, then the dismissal would be a matter of public access.

Policy:

Youth that meet the statutory criteria for being designated as “Dual Status” cases with Probation and DCS should be reviewed for the proper notice to the Court and coordination of services for the youth and family.

Procedure:

1. Upon receipt of an arrest report, the probation officer shall prepare a dual status screening tool on all cases where a formal petition is filed. The Probation Officer shall notify the Chief Probation Officer if there are DCS contacts noted, who will confer with the DCS Local Director (LOD) to determine if there will be a recommendation for dual status.

2. Upon notifying the Chief Probation officer of documented contacts with DCS and or discovering DCS contacts through the case management systems including Odyssey, the CPO and DCS LOD will confer regarding the case and attempt to reach consensus regarding the recommendation regarding the convening of a Dual Status Team. If the CPO and LOD concur that the contacts are too remote in time, they may agree that the prior contacts are only noted in the Preliminary Inquiry but that a Dual Status Screening Tool should not be filed with any informal adjustment or formal case that is filed.

3. Absent a concurrence that any prior DCS contacts are too remote, the Probation Officer shall complete the Dual Status Screening Tool and submit it to the Court upon filing the Petition Alleging Delinquency or the Informal Adjustment, using this case number, when the youth has involvement listed in the contacts included with the police report. The Dual Status Screening Tool shall include the recommendation regarding the convening of a Dual Status Team.

4. The PO should ensure that copies of the Dual Status Screening Tool are distributed to the Court, DCS, Prosecutor, the Public Defender and CASA Director.

5. The Court will then review the Dual Status Screening Tool and determine if a Dual Status Team Meeting will be ordered to convene.

6. Once the Court has ordered the Dual Status Team to convene, the initiating agency will set up the meeting to include Probation, DCS, CASA, and other providers that may already be involved to review the case for possible Dual Status recommendations to the Court.

7. Following the Dual Status Team convening, the initiating agency shall prepare a report to the Court with recommendations regarding the case being considered a Dual Status and if so who will be the “lead agency.”
8. Upon the Court designating the case as a Dual Status Case, all further violations, major occurrences, situations of non-compliance, notable concerns or considerations for modifications or terminations, will be reviewed by the Dual Status Team upon their reconvening to consider information presented by the agencies involved. Written reports of the recommendations from these meetings shall be prepared by the lead agency, filed with the Court and provided to the agencies involved with the case. The Dual Status team shall meet on a regular basis, as necessary, until case closure.

9. In the event a Dual Status Screening Tool is received by the Probation Department and there is no open probation case, then the Dual Status Screening Tool will be filed in the DUAL STATUS SCREENER INFORMATION file for future reference only.
