Crisis Response Action Plan Overview

The Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) is committed to working alongside schools to help ensure the safety and well-being of all students, staff, and visitors in our K-12 schools. In an ever-changing world, it is imperative that educational institutions are prepared to respond effectively to a variety of crises. Whether facing natural disasters, acts of violence, health emergencies, or any other critical incidents, having a comprehensive and actionable crisis response plan is essential.

IDOE's Crisis Response Action Plan serves as a vital resource for administrators, teachers, and support staff, outlining procedures, protocols, and resources necessary to respond swiftly and effectively to varying crisis situations in an effort to minimize potential physical and psychological safety impacts on students.

Why It's Important:

- Safety and Security: The primary concern of any educational institution is the safety and security of its students and staff. A well-defined crisis response plan ensures that everyone knows their roles and responsibilities, reducing chaos and enhancing the effectiveness of response efforts.
- Preparedness: This resource equips school personnel with the knowledge and tools needed to handle emergencies, promoting a culture of readiness and resilience.
- Minimizing Disruption: Crises can severely disrupt the educational process. By having a clear and practiced response plan, schools can minimize the impact on students' learning and return to normal operations more efficiently.
- Transparency and Trust: Transparent and effective crisis management builds trust within the school community. Parents, students, and staff can feel confident that the school is prepared to handle emergencies, fostering a sense of safety and well-being.

Schools are encouraged to utilize this resource in conjunction with the Indiana School Safety Guidelines for Emergency Response Systems to best support crisis prevention, mitigation, and response. Through proactive preparation and coordinated response, we can work to safeguard our schools and provide a secure environment conducive to learning and growth.

Identifying Appropriate Supports: Following a crisis situation, the following checklist can be used to identify the appropriate supports based on the unique circumstances. The actions included may be completed in any order and can be adapted as appropriate. During school breaks, these action steps should still be implemented with adaptations based on staff resources and timing.

To further help schools in responding to a crisis, it is suggested that school crisis response teams attend the PREPaRE Workshop 2 training, Mental Health Crisis Interventions (i.e., Responding to an Acute, Traumatic Stressor in Schools) to learn more about specific interventions and supports. This school-related crisis response model provides information on determining the level of intervention and support needed for individual students or groups of students. During the workshop, participants have the opportunity to discuss a variety of crisis events that require varying levels of response. Tabletop activities and role-playing are integrated into the training. Contact engagement@doe.in.gov for more information on attending this workshop.

Crisis Fact Sheet

Use this document to gather information about the crisis, completing it to the best of your ability. Make a copy of this document for each instance and share with team members, as appropriate. The content should be updated as the crisis events unfold.

A. Basic Information

1. Briefly describe the event:

2. When did the event occur?

3. Where did the event occur?

4. Who was involved (who are the immediate crisis victims)?

5. Is law enforcement involved (did a criminal activity take place)?

6. What is the prognosis for those involved?

7. Was anyone injured or killed? Yes No
If yes, who was injured or killed?

B. Physical Proximity

1. Who witnessed the event?

2. Who was exposed to the aftermath of the event (e.g., saw victims being medically treated)?

C. Emotional Proximity

1. Who knew the crisis victim(s)?

2. Who is considered close friends of the crisis victim(s)?

3. What classroom(s) was(were) the crisis victim(s) a part of?

4. What activities (clubs, athletics, organizations) did the crisis victim(s) participate in?

5. What previous schools did the student attend or could be affected?

D. Personal Vulnerability

1. Have there been other crisis events that have affected students/staff this past year?

2. Have any of the staff or students been affected by an event like the current crisis?

3. Has anyone experienced a sudden loss of a loved one over the past year?

4. Are there staff or students who have any mental health concerns that may affect their ability to cope with the crisis?

5. Have staff and/or students already learned of the event? Yes No
If yes, how were they informed? (Social media, media, pictures, videos, etc.)

Parent Contact Form

Parent Contact by Crisis Team Member
Student:		Date of Contact:
Parent/Guardian:		Time of Contact:
Crisis Team Member:		School:

When contacting the student’s parent or guardian by phone:

- Provide your name and position.
- Provide the verified crisis facts and that you met with their child.
- Review your observations based on the demonstrated reactions of the child and what supports were provided.
 - Answer any questions the parent may have.
- Provide the name of any additional counseling support or resources that the student may benefit from (potentially school-based therapy or a referral to a school provider) if needed.
- If appropriate, offer to facilitate the referral or to contact the student’s current mental health provider (a release of information will be needed for this conversation).
- Determine if there is any additional follow up needed for the family.

If the parent/guardian picks their child up:

- Introduce yourself and thank them for coming.
- Briefly review your concerns for their child
 - Let them know:
 - Recovery is generally the norm in these situations.
 - Initial reactions are normal given the circumstances, but after a week if the reactions do not subside, they may consider additional mental health support.
- Provide the National Association of School Psychologists’ Helping Children Cope With Tragedy resource document.
- If needed, complete a release of information form and discuss appropriate referrals.

Parent or Guardian’s Response

Additional Follow Up

Staff Communication

Notes/Action Steps for Administrators:

Conversation with student's parents:

- Provide condolences to the family, if applicable.
- Understand what information the family is comfortable with administrators sharing with the school community.

Goals of the staff meeting:

- Provide accurate, factual information about the crisis; dispel and minimize rumors.
- Allow staff opportunity to express their own reactions and grief.
- Provide information regarding support and resources.
- Review class meeting script, if using.
- If anyone needs to talk, time can be provided for them to talk with a crisis responder.
- Remind staff of the importance of privacy of the family and process (as needed).

Remind staff:

- How adults respond to trauma and crisis will impact children. Adults need to do their best to stay in control of their emotions and restore a sense of safety. If they can't, encourage them to let an administrator know so that someone can step in for them.
- They play an important role in identifying changes in student behavior. Discuss a plan for handling students who are struggling, and make sure they let the appropriate staff/crisis responders know so that they can check in on the student.
- Self-care is important during this time.

Sample Crisis Communication for Crisis Involving Staff Member

BUILDING LEVEL NOTICE OF STAFF MEETING - IMMEDIATE

We will be holding a brief mandatory, stand-up, staff meeting immediately after school today, _____. Please report directly to the cafeteria.

BUILDING LEVEL - FOLLOW UP 1

Thank you again for your time earlier today. I appreciate your support and understanding during this time. While I don't have substantive updates at this time, I did want to announce that we will have an optional, stand-up meeting at 7 a.m. on Wednesday morning to provide support, information, and tips for communication with students.

BUILDING LEVEL - FOLLOW UP 2 CONFIRMATION

Dear Staff,

I am saddened to inform you that there was a crisis incident involving a staff member....

INSERT DETAILS OF INCIDENT

INSERT INFORMATION REGARDING SUPPORTS AVAILABLE

Example: Crisis and district support will be available to you on site at _____ tomorrow and in the coming days. Trained professionals will be in the media center tomorrow.

We know that student response and recovery during a crisis is strongly linked to adult reactions and support. Difficult times like this tend to trigger those who are already in a vulnerable place, so please observe your students closely over the next days and weeks. If you have a concern about a student or colleague, please let an administrator or counselor know.

You will receive additional information at our staff meeting tomorrow morning at 7 a.m., including details on class meetings and how to access support. If you do not feel comfortable conducting classroom meetings, please let _____ know as soon as possible.

Thank you for supporting each other and our students during this challenging time.

BUILDING LEVEL – FOLLOW UP 3

Best Practices for Thursday's Classes

- Be mindful of students in need of support. Direct any student you feel would benefit from extra support from the counseling office to the specific location of crisis response. It's best to do this one-on-one and not in front of a large group. Some things to be on the lookout for:
 - Change in baseline behavior
 - Difficulty with concentration, memory, zoning out
 - Somatic issues such as increased headaches, stomach aches, or other psychical concerns
 - Academic concerns
 - Irritability, anger, anxiety, or increased alertness
- Recognize that there are some students who need routines and normalcy, and providing predictable environments will help them move through the grieving process.
- In addition to your work with and for students, continue to take care of yourself and your colleagues and reach out for support, as needed.

Concerning Student Conversations about this Issue and/or Rumors

First and foremost, please take special precaution not to contribute to any misinformation. Don't engage in hearsay. Instead, please rely on and be comfortable confirming any details that have been communicated by the district (crisis fact sheet information). If students are discussing other, unconfirmed details related to this incident, please gently remind them to be cautious of potential harm they may be doing by engaging in these conversations. If students ask you direct questions about anything you're not sure to be true, you should respond with "I don't know that to be true, it's important that we not share misinformation as that adds to rumors, etc."

Sample Parent Letter

Parent Communication for Student/Staff Crisis

Dear _____ Families:

It is with deep regret that we inform you about a recent [INSERT CRISIS HERE] to our school community.

On [DATE], [INSERT CRISIS FACT HERE]

Everyone processes grief differently and the reaction children may have to a traumatic event is often strongly influenced by the actions and support of the adults around them. Attached and below are additional resources to assist you in supporting your child(ren) during this difficult time.

- Provide outlets for expression such as drawing, writing, talking, and any other engaging activities.
- Be honest. When they ask difficult questions, it's okay to say you don't know the answer.
- Reassure them of their own health and safety and make sure they know that you are there to support them.

In addition, here is a link from the National Association of School Psychologist (NASP) Addressing Grief that you may find helpful as you talk with your child.

Our school [AND, IF APPLICABLE, NAME OF SCHOOL DISTRICT] has a Crisis Intervention Team made up of professionals trained to help with the needs of students, parents, and school personnel at difficult times such as this. At our school [OR INSERT NAME OF ALTERNATIVE SCHOOL], we have counselors available for any student who may need or want help or any type of assistance surrounding this loss.

If you would like additional information or need assistance, please contact [NAME OF COMMUNICATIONS COORDINATOR OR COUNSELING SERVICES COORDINATOR] at [PHONE NUMBER AND/OR EMAIL].

Sincerely,

[NAME OF THE SIGNER AND TITLE. THIS LETTER IS USUALLY SIGNED BY THE PRINCIPAL, SUPERINTENDENT, OR CRISIS TEAM COORDINATOR.]

NOTE: For your students to read this script in your class, or as a class, or as a support when reading it, please do not know and we will have a similar script available for you to use in your class.

READ TO STUDENTS THE FOLLOWING:

I have some very sad news to share with you. John Collins, a third grade student here at ABC Elementary School, died in a car accident Saturday afternoon. The family is planning the funeral and I will probably be on Thursday afternoon of this week. We will let you and your parents know when we have more information about this.

When something like this happens, people sometimes have questions, and I would like to answer any questions you may have. I may not know all the answers and I will have to call you if I don't know if I can help you. I will be glad to take specific information of support for John's family. I may not be able to answer your questions, or I may have to go back and see how you get on with your information.

I also want to let you know that different people react to this type of event in different ways, and that is OK. Some people may cry, others may have trouble sleeping or thinking, some people may feel sad and some may feel angry. It is OK to feel the way you do. If you are not sure about your feelings or reactions regarding John's death, let your teacher or me, and we can create some time for you to talk to someone. Does anyone have any questions?

WHEN ANSWERING QUESTIONS, PLEASE REMEMBER THE FOLLOWING:

1. Think ONLY about facts.
2. Do not give out information for younger children. When discussing the death, avoid euphemisms "went to sleep" and "did not wake up," "went away," or "left," which may be taken literally and cause fear or discomfort.
3. Explain to request facts.
4. Do not give details that students do not ask for, especially those that you think might frighten children (e.g., that the accident was very serious).
5. Avoid sensationalizing or dramatizing.
6. Answer only the questions that you are asked. Do not volunteer information that you are not asked for.
7. Ask students' questions guide what information you share.
8. Use one of the following responses:
 - a. "This is what we know, when sharing unverified crisis facts."
 - b. "I don't know, when addressing crisis circumstances that have yet to be verified."
 - c. "Talk to your parents, when addressing crisis circumstances that are not appropriate for classroom discussion (e.g., "Why did John die like that?")."
9. Let your students know that they can go to the office if they need to discuss the event or that they would like some help coping with this loss.
