Help with Medical Costs

Help with Drug Costs

If you receive less than $2,116 (single) per month and have $8,400 or less in assets, you'll likely qualify for a Medicare Savings Program, which will pay your $170.10 Part B monthly premium.

If you receive $1,719 (single) per month or less and have $8,400 or less in assets, you'll likely qualify for a Medicare Savings Program, which pays ALL of your medical expenses (Part B premium, co-pays, and deductibles).

Extra Help pays the Medicare Part D monthly premium, keeps you out of the donut hole, and reduces the cost of medicines to no more than $3.95-$9.85.

If you receive $1,549 (single) / $2,080 (couple) per month or less in income and have $9,900 (single) or $15,600 (couple) in assets you may qualify for full Extra Help.

If you have $1,719 (single) / $2,309 (couple) per month in income and $15,510 (single) or $30,950 (couple) in assets, your Partial Extra Help benefits will be on a sliding scale.

If you qualify for any of the Medicare Savings Programs, you automatically qualify for Extra Help with Part D and drug costs.

Income limit $2,116 (single) / $2,843 (couple) per month, Medicare Savings Program pays your $170.10/month Part B Premium
Income limit $1,719 (single) / $2,308 (couple), per month Medicare Savings Program pays your $170.10/month Part B Premium, all co-pays and deductibles
Asset limits are $8,400 (single) / $12,600 (couple) per month
