
Indiana Secretary of State
Connie Lawson

Fellowship Program

Summer 2013

About Secretary Lawson

Secretary Lawson, Majority Floor Leader and an Indiana state senator since 1996, brings local and state elections experience to the office. Until her appointment as Secretary of State she was chair of the local government and joint rules committees and has been a champion of local government reform efforts, authoring a bill to reduce nepotism and eliminate conflicts of interest. She also spent six years as the chair of the Senate Elections Committee and has continued to serve as a ranking member.

Secretary Lawson was clerk of the Hendricks County Circuit Court from 1989 to 1996. During her tenure, she was named election administrator of the year by the Indiana State Election Board and clerk of the year by the Indiana Clerk's Association, both in 1993. The Association of Indiana Counties awarded her a similar award in 1996. She also served as president of the Indiana Clerk's Association and chair of the group's legislative committee.

She and her husband, Jack own Lawson & Company, an auctioneer and real estate company.

On March 16, 2012, Governor Mitch Daniels appointed Connie Lawson to the post of Secretary of State.

Organization of the Office

The Executive Office, located in the Indiana Statehouse, oversees the overall policy, management, and budgeting for the entire office. Four main divisions comprise the balance of the office: Securities, Business Services, and Auto Dealer Services.

Securities - The Securities Division oversees Indiana's securities industry. The division is charged with protecting Hoosier investors by bringing enforcement actions against companies and individuals selling securities in violation of Indiana's securities laws and by educating Hoosiers about prudent investing. Home to the Prosecution Assistance Unit, which helps county law enforcement go after the worst of the worst white collar criminals, the Securities Division has helped secure more than 2,100 enforcement actions across Indiana with the courts ordering more than 354 years in sentences to white collar criminals. In addition, courts have ordered defendants to pay over $438 million in restitution to crime victims.

The Division is also home to Indiana Investment Watch, an investor education program aimed at educating Hoosiers on how to better protect their hard-earned savings from fraud.

Business Services - The Business Services Division administers all business-related responsibilities for the Secretary of State including the chartering of new businesses, the filing of commercial liens, and the issuance of trademarks, notaries public and summonses.

Auto Dealer Services - The Dealer Services Division administers regulations relating to the registration of motorized vehicle dealers, including dealers for automobiles, watercraft, off-road vehicles and automobile salvage.
