TREASURER MOURDOCK RECEIVES SENIORS' RIGHTS AWARD

INDIANAPOLIS (September 26, 2012) – Today, Treasurer Mourdock received the Honorary Guardian of Seniors' Rights Award from the 60 Plus Association. "I greatly appreciate and accept this award. We must do everything we can to protect the rights of seniors," said Treasurer Mourdock.

Jim Martin, Chairman of the 60 Plus Association, a group with over 7 million members nationwide including 145,000 in Indiana, presented the award to Treasurer Mourdock at the statehouse.

"When you look at Richard Mourdock's record, it makes perfect sense that he is a business leader and a trained geologist, because he is 'rock solid' when it comes to standing up for seniors and serving as a watchdog of taxpayer dollars," said Martin.

The Office of the State Treasurer is responsible for investing around $6.7 billion on behalf of Hoosiers. The goal is to make safe investments and maximize returns for taxpayers since every dollar earned by the state is one less dollar that needs to be raised via taxation.

Richard Mourdock became State Treasurer in February 2007. During his tenure the Treasurer's office has made over $1.3 billion in investment returns.
